

Local jewelry artist releases new book

Calla Gold, a fine jewelry designer based in Carpinteria, recently launched the second edition of her book, "The Language of Jewelry Design," a publication filled with images of Gold's work, simple tips for jewelry wearing and answers to questions that her clients have posed. The new edition summarizes the experience and knowledge Gold has accumulated through her nearly three decades in the jewelry business. Gold specializes in wedding rings, but works with a variety of new and old jewelry. She speaks at jewelry conventions at South Coast organizations as a sales trainer. For more information or to read the eBook version of "The Language of Jewelry Design," visit callagoldjewelry.com.
